

“I’m treated with respect and dignity. The nurses, care workers and chaplins do a wonderful job of looking after me.”

Aged Care

Welcome

The Salvation Army has been providing aged care in Australia since 1899. Our purpose is to promote a unique experience of choice, lifestyle and belonging to all people as they age.

Our difference

- Person-centred model of care
- Dedicated and qualified staff
- A government accredited provider that you know and trust
- Pastoral and chaplaincy services available
- As a not-for-profit, any additional funds go to support the most vulnerable in the community.

Life in our centre

James Barker House offers a supportive lifestyle in a community setting. We are open to anyone requiring residential aged care, including those who are marginalised.

Our staff and chaplains go beyond clinical needs to cater for the physical, emotional and spiritual well-being of our residents. We operate on the principles of person-centred care, where we learn what is important to each individual and provide a range of programs tailored to these preferences.

These programs are designed to uphold the well-being and dignity of our residents and support them in leading a healthy and independent lifestyle. We also recognise the importance of family and friends so we welcome them to be an active part of our community. We regularly engage with the local community and provide a wide range of recreational activities.

Our beautiful, heritage home is designed for residents' comfort, security and sense of belonging. We are conveniently located so that we're close to public transport, shops and local services.

Our care team

James Barker House is led by the Centre Manager. Together with our Care Manager, Chaplain, Registered Nurses, team of specialists and care staff, we ensure that every resident is healthy, comfortable and loved.
